ATTENTION BNSF RAILWAY CUSTOMERS

Earlier this year Metra released its proposed BNSF Positive Train Control (PTC) schedule. Coinciding with this release, Metra allowed BNSF riders to send their feedback on the proposed schedule changes. This was done to allow our riders to express how the new schedule would affect their trips. Thank you to everyone who provided feedback on the proposal.

While we could not accommodate every request, we were able to make some modifications based on the feedback we received. Changes that were made to the proposed schedule include new departure and arrival times for certain trains, and added or removed stops for certain trains, mostly to address gaps in service or to provide more options at particular stations. Some trains also were renumbered. This document shows the schedule that will be implemented June 11, 2018. Please check metr rail.com for more details.

Earlier this year Metra released its proposed BNSF Positive Train Control (PTC) schedule. Coinciding with this release, Metra allowed BNSF riders to send their feedback on the proposed schedule changes. This was done to allow our riders to express how the new schedule would affect their trips. Thank you to everyone who provided feedback on the proposal.

While we could not accommodate every request, we were able to make some modifications based on the feedback we received. Changes that were made to the proposed schedule include new departure and arrival times for certain trains, and added or removed stops for certain trains, mostly to address gaps in service or to provide more options at particular stations. Some trains also were renumbered. This document shows the schedule that will be implemented June 11, 2018. Please check metr rail.com for more details.
